

Four Gunmen Threaten Girls With Death in $3,600 Hold-Up

DEATH THREATS were hurled by bold thugs who robbed the payroll of the Cushman & Son bakery offices yesterday, as Frieda Miller (left) telephone operator tried to phone police. Fred Nagle (center) office manager, was eating his lunch, and Mabel McKay was forced to hand over a $3,600 payroll (Graphic.)

HIDDEN VIRTUE!

In torrid weather, east side youngsters find respite from the heat in the cool waters at the base of the Civic Virtue statue in City Hall Park. At least, here are some who have a fondness for virtue. (Photo Graphic.)

COMEBACK?

Geraldine Farrar (above), whose name was once a byword in the best musical circles, has sailed for Europe where friends predict she will make stage comeback. Lately she's been in the sticks, but she is about to put up a battle to get back to the big time. Her friends are rooting.

STRIKERS FREED!

Magistrate Brodsky yesterday found garment sstrikers not guilty of disorderly conduct. Photo shows Charles Zimmerman (left), president of strikers committee, with Lawyer James J. Mayer leaving Jefferson Market Court (Photo Graphic.)

FREE DOLLS

will be given to the orphans of the city by the National Thanksgiving Doll Offering Committee, which is collecting the playthings to be given away. Photo shows Dorothy Lewis with some of them. (Photo Graphic.)